Wood—Refined Rustic

Reclaimed wood is hot these days, both for its distinctive patina and character as well as the ecological benefits of re-using these beautiful natural resources. Our selections from the American Barn Collection by Vintage Wood Floors are handcrafted from old barns, buildings, and structures of the 1800's and early 1900's. We chatted with the owner Joe Pfeiffer who told us that a blend of "refined rustic" was the most asked for look.

Stone—Timeless

Stone flooring has always been and will always be in style, just ask the Romans. Here we have Dalle de France, hand-crafted to resemble centuries old chateaux floors. We chose this Antique Limestone from Exquisite Surfaces for its rustic and timeless charm but also its versatility. This look compliments both modern and classic design tones and can transition from indoors to out.

DESIGNER DIALOGUE AREA RUGS

SET THE MOOD

“Area rugs are a great way to set the mood in a space. One can spend a lot of time searching for the perfect area rug that has just the right design and colors. One of my favorite rug companies is Delos Rugs because you can customize everything so it’s perfect for your space and avoids hours of searching. You can pick the design, colors, texture, size and even the construction type to fit your budget and create the exact rug you want. Remember to have fun creating your space and design it for you and your lifestyle!”

“RIGHT NOW I AM LOVING SISAL OR SEAGRASS RUGS.

They have a great texture, and they always come to mind when you’re looking for a casual vibe.

For something unexpected, try them in a formal environment. I like to embellish them by adding a hand-painted motif or a great fabric binding. With details like that, they can set the stage for a dining room or a chic master bedroom.”
